You must create them a fact file for each place so that they have as much information as possible.

- 1) Travel to these places by marking x on the map below.
- 2) What are the weather conditions like? Can you give accurate data? What should the spies expect?
- 3) What should they pack in order to be successful on this trip?
- 4) How will they travel there? Will they need to travel through any other countries?

Where is your city located? Mark it on this world map so you know where to point when you give your forecast.
